LEGEND

Info Points: The Info Points are dynamic restaurant owners, café owners or tourist entrepreneurs who, as true ambassadors, give personal tips to their customers about what can be experienced in the region.

Hanna: child-friendly activities

Charming villages: The Westhoek and French Flanders have a large amount of quietly enchanted villages. Some of those pearls are even more beautiful than their already very impressive colleagues. Those places were given the label 'charming village'.

DE KLIJTE

De Klijte is a small village in Heuvelland, but no less beautiful! There is a nature reserve that is popularly known as 'Little Switzerland'. This originated in the deeply cut bed of a brook that flows into the Kemmelbeek. You can idyllically walk (or cycle) in a landscape with bushes and meadows. The church is protected as a monument and is certainly worth a visit!

KEMMEL

Kemmel is one of the most bucolic villages of Heuvelland: verdant market place, bandstand, superb landscapes, friendly bars (estaminets), etc. Kemmel is also well-known for a certain number of important events such as the Zoetemarkt and the biggest flea market of western Flanders.

NIEUWKERKE

Nieuwkerke is the most southerly part of Heuvelland, and lies against the border with France and Wallonia. In the 16th century, Nieuwkerke was an important center of cloth industry. Here the first hedges were held and the iconoclastic rose. In addition to this rich history, the village also offers panoramic views of the Leie Valley and on the hills of the Mont des Cats to the Mount Kemmel.

WIJTSCHATE

Wijtschate is a superb village of the hills of western Flanders, in which the first World War left many vestiges. A site worth a visit here is the “Pool of Peace”, a wartime crater, as well as the restored trenches of Bayernwald.

WULVERGEM

The village is the smallest in the municipality Heuveland, with only about 260 inhabitants and an area of 350 ha. Wulvergem would have originated along a Roman road. This ran from Belle over the Ravelsberg, 'the Walletjes' in Nieuwkerke and Kraaiberg to Messines and on to Wervik. At that time Wulvergem was not yet where it is now.

MESEN

---

Between the slopes of the hills of western Flanders and right on the language border is the picturesque town of Mesen. Mesen is with its 358 hectares and its nearly one thousand inhabitants the smallest city in the country. Small scale is however the strongest asset of Messines. Nature, tranquility, authenticity and a rich history can all be discovered in this southernmost part of the Westhoek.

RENINGELST

Reningelst has the reputation of being a genuine cycling village. Located at the foot of the hills of western Flanders and close to the French frontier, it is a haven of peace and nature and, therefore, an ideal starting point for expeditions across Heuvelland or French Flanders.
